Dear Kevin,

Having received some great feedback on your recent visit to Collingwood to “bring home” the results of all three surveys, I wanted to write to you to commend you and thank you for once again providing such an invaluable service to our School. Our Leadership team was knocked out by your consultative process in formulating the surveys, and the data that was generated proved to be very salutary and instructive. Of course, your incredible added value is in the analysis of the findings, and you not only teased out every conceivable take-away but presented to all our stakeholders in such a professional and hospitable manner.

We were all thrilled that we went through the process and extremely happy that you shepherded us through it.

Thank you Kevin – you crushed it!

Cheers and good wishes,

Rodger Wright
Headmaster
