Dear Kevin,

Please accept again these few words of appreciation for the excellent work that you did on our behalf recently with the three surveys - employee, current student and current parent. As we have discussed, along with any welcome affirmation that we are actually achieving what we purport to achieve, these surveys give us the opportunity to identify areas in which we can improve. As always, we find that we keep coming back to the results as a reference point in our ongoing managerial and philosophical discussions.

Once again, I appreciate your guidance and your own points of reference not to mention your consummate professionalism. I would have no hesitation in recommending you to my colleagues across the country. Please feel free to put others in contact with me should you deem it necessary. My best wishes to you.

Yours sincerely,
